

Ann-Eve Pedersen Bio

Ann-Eve Pedersen is president of the Arizona Education Network, a non-partisan, non-profit organization founded in 2009 by parents. The Arizona Education Network advocates for public education in Arizona. Its website, www.arizonaeducationnetwork.com, is a statewide resource for public education supporters, providing original research, legislative updates and voting records of state legislators on education funding issues. Pedersen is the former city editor of the Arizona Daily Star and managing editor for news/business of the Tucson Citizen. An Arizona native, she received her B.A. from Brown University in Providence, R.I. She and her husband have a 10-year-old son who attends elementary school in the Tucson Unified School District. Pedersen also heads the anti-bullying task force established by the Fund for Civility, Respect and Understanding, which was created by Rep. Gabrielle Giffords' district director, Ron Barber, after the January 8 shootings in Tucson.
